Use

Padenpor has been used in surgery suites, operating rooms, recovery areas, foaling stalls, aisle ways, breeding sheds, treatment areas, quarantine areas, laboratories, pharmacies and anywhere where you need a clean, seamless, resilient environment.

Product

Padenpor DLX is a resilient, seamless textured floor system. For over 25 years it has been widely used in a variety of animal care, equine, zoo, and veterinary applications. Padenpor DLX is designed for any facility where bio-security, cleanability, comfort, and safety are of importance. Padenpor looks good, feels great and provides a sanitary environment like no other surface.

Cleaning

Padenpor is easily cleaned. Floors should be sloped toward drains. Simply pressure wash the surface using your preferred detergent. Regular cleaning will ensure an anti-fungal, anti microbial environment. In conjunction with your well managed bio-security protocols, Padenpor will provide the most sanitary environment for animal and care givers alike. University studies have shown Padenpor to remain 99.9% bacteria free when cleaned in conjunction with proper bio-security.

Sustainability

Padenpor has been installed for over 25 years and remains in daily use in some extremely heavily trafficked areas. If needed, Padenpor can be resurfaced. This is significantly cheaper than removal and replacement that other floors require. It can also be resurfaced quicker than if you have to replace a floor. This results in less down time for your facility.
